REGION IV WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT – Roger Feldhaus

Presentation of Initiatives

Region 4 Workforce Board Executive Director Feldhaus presented a handout packet of regarding information for West Central WorkOne, stating the Board operates programs in 12 Northwest and Central Indiana counties. The annual budget varies from year to year depending on grants. The upcoming year's budget is approximately $5.5 million; much as pass through funds from the US Department of Labor. State funded grants and competitive grant applications make up the remaining funds. In the past year, a project called Ready to Work has been implemented; directly from the US Department of Labor to serve long term unemployed people. The Ready to Work project is a partnership with local manufacturing companies SIA, Caterpillar, Kirby Risk, and Wabash National. There are other companies such as Fiat/Chrysler in other areas. Additional newer Tippecanoe County companies such as Voestalpine Rotec have recently joined. The purpose is to bring people back into manufacturing careers who had their careers interrupted and also to encourage people who have not considered or are not prepared to enter a manufacturing career to do so. The Ready to Work project is a $500,000 grant that will serve 800 people over a four year period; the project is currently in year two.

Mr. Feldhaus continued to say the training program developed in partnership with Purdue and Vincennes has been approved by the State Workforce Board and the Governor's office has an eligible training provider. Due to the announcement earlier today and what is generally known about career opportunities in Lafayette is the reason the Workforce Board has prioritized manufacturing career training. The Board does sponsor other kinds of training such as Healthcare Occupations, Business Services and Information Technology. Training is important because manufacturers have certain standards and expectations of new hires. "RAMP" (Rapid Reemployment in Manufacturing Positions) operated at the SIA Training Center is designed to train individuals and provide internships for manufacturing employers. Mr. Feldhaus said it is not only important to develop the talent of current residents but also to attract talent from outside of the normal radius of commuting patterns. In Tippecanoe County, comparing August, 2014 to August, 2015, the size of the workforce has grown by 2,000 people and the unemployment rate is down from 5.2% to 4.1%.

Mr. Feldhaus introduced Chris Cohee, the Regional Coordinator for the WorkOne system. Mr. Cohee said he is responsible for coordinating services in the Lafayette center and the seven surrounding counties. He highlighted one of their youth services called "JAG" (Jobs for Americas Graduates); a dropout prevention program. It is administered in three Tippecanoe County Schools – Jeff, McCutcheon, and Oakland Alternative. It is extremely successful with high goals of a 90% graduation rate. He introduced the JAG program Director, Melanie Dorsey. Ms. Dorsey shared the success story of student Lauren who overcame many obstacles through the JAG program.

Mr. Feldhaus thanked the Commissioners for their support and encouragement.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Steve Covert, 6121 E 50 South, Lafayette, IN 47905 – Mr. Covert said he is the Pastor of the Eastside Assembly of God Church located on East 50 South next to Wyandotte School. There is a library being built at the end of the road. The church owns 25 acres. In May, notice was received that 15 of the acres would begin to be taxed; the 15 acres is being farmed. The land was purchased in 2000, the building was built in 2002 and an exemption was received on the 25 acres. He is concerned about the difficult appeal process; the barriers, the objects, and the excuses from the Assessor's office. There is a level of incompetence and dishonesty he has never seen in 20 years of working in ministry. We have filled out every paper as told only to find out we were never notified of either hearing held by the Appeals Board. His understanding is they should have received 30 days' notice. Now, they must appeal to the State which he has no problem with. His paperwork notifying him of the lost appeal accused them of forgery. They (the church) reapplied for the exemption and the Assessor's office lost the application. There has been no apology and his concern as a Pastor is that citizens are customers who should be treated with respect when they visit the Assessor's office. It appears the way he was treated is standard operating procedure for the Assessor's office. He doesn't think the Commissioners as leaders of the County want that kind of County but the actions reflect on the Commissioners and the entire County.

President Murtaugh asked if Mr. Covert had discussions with Assessor Grossman. Mr. Covert said one discussion and his understanding was the Assessor's office was to initiate discussions and they did not. During the one discussion, Assessor Grossman came into the meeting because the woman working with him could not answer his questions. President Murtaugh said Assessor Grossman is very conscientious about citizen communication. Mr. Covert said Assessor Grossman was very nice but he guarantee him he would have a right to go before PTABOA and state his case; that never happened - on two occasions. President Murtaugh said the Commissioner's office will help coordinate a meeting with Assessor Grossman. Mr. Covert said he has a meeting with PTABOA this Thursday, under the condition he signs the 30 day waiver - and it was presented as if the Assessor's office was doing him a special favor.

His concern is the regular household or person who has to go through this; he imagines they just give up and pay beyond what they should. President Murtaugh asked if Mr. Covert would be okay if a meeting was set up. Mr. Covert agreed and President Murtaugh thanked him for his comments.

As there were no other public comments, Commissioner Byers moved to adjourn.

Meeting adjourned at 1:55 p.m.
