The Area Plan Commission approved recommendation of the rezone request. The church plans a series of buildings which will be dome structures, including dwelling units for hosting and a school of ministry. Dan Teder, Attorney representing the petitioner said a favorable staff recommendation from Area Plan was received. The rezone request from R1 and I3 to I3 is for a 60 acre tract. To incorporate all the property, the current I3 is included because it was never surveyed. All surrounding property is zoned I3 with the exception of the four corners of US52 and Veterans Memorial Parkway. The property is part of the '87 Amendment to the adopted lane use plan which calls for I3 for this area. The petitioner is getting the site ready for future industrial use. There are no objections from surrounding property owners.

Grant Facilitator Wilson gave an update to the recent tornados in southern Indiana. The District 4 Task Force deployed about two hours after the tornados and was the first Task Force to arrive. They assisted the residents, emergency management, and department heads in managing debris removal. Within ten days, areas were identified for students to maintain their schedules except for the high school students, who returned to classes today. Shelters were closed sooner than expected because most of those needing assistance stayed with relatives. At last report, no FEMA trailers are being brought in. On Monday following the tornado, one of the church members who owned a lumber yard volunteered to build 20 homes free of charge. Two weeks later, another national faith-based group offered 100 homes to those without insurance or who were under funded through FEMA reimbursement. FEMA aide has provided over $670,000 for Clark County in the first two weeks. Six to eight weeks was estimated for clean up, but 98% of debris was cleaned up in 12 days due to all the volunteers. The Disaster Declaration process has several local and state procedures before submission to Washington. Once submitted, it goes through six signatures before submission to President Obama. There are two separate programs for reimbursement: one for the homeowners and local property owners and another program for public assistance to reimburse the County for the hours of service from firefighters, local emergency management, and highway. FEMA covers the expenses of District 4 participants such as overtime, retirement, social security, and health insurance so gathering all the information from the other counties will take some time.
