REZONE

UZO Amendment #60; Ordinance 2009-10-CM: An omnibus amendment to Chapter 1: Words and terms defined regarding the definitions of front line and front setback, Chapter 2: PD checkpoint agencies list, Chapter 3: Permitted use table (correcting footnote 8) and Chapter 4: setbacks for parking and buffering for residential PD's.

APC Director Sallie Fahey spoke regarding the omnibus amendment to the ordinance. The first section will amend the front lot line and front set-back section which will allow anyone on a corner lot to change the front lot line from the narrow side to another lot line. Sections two and three will amend buffer yards and special set-backs which are required for some uses adjacent to residential zones or zoning districts. Planned developments are not listed in the chart but frequently have residential components. It includes residential components of planned development so industrial use in an industrial zone potentially located next to a component will have to meet the same set-backs and buffer yards as it would in residential zone or other residential uses. Section four changes the checkpoint agency for West Lafayette United Water of West Lafayette. West Lafayette United Water has changed its name to Indiana American and in the event it changes again, APC would like to change it to a more generic term such as the appropriate water department. Section five addresses setbacks for parking downtown zoning districts and neighborhood business-urban districts. The intent in these zoning districts is to keep an urban look by having buildings up close to the street. A block or lot being developed or redeveloped with streets on either three or four sides would have no place for parking. The amendment allows, under certain circumstances for parking to be located in front of the building in these zoning districts as follows: For property surrounded on three sides by streets, parking can be located between the building and one of the adjoining streets. For property surrounded on four sides or more with streets, the parking can be located between the building and two of the adjoining streets rights-of-way. Section six addresses footnote eight which is applied to some uses appropriately but was listed as applying to wholesale trade both durable goods and non-durable goods. Those uses are not permitted in the zones which footnote eight applies and should be removed, The amendments have been through the ordinance committee and the plan commission voted on May 20, 2009 13-yes 0-no to recommend approval of these amendments to all six jurisdictions.

- Commissioner Byers moved to approve UZO Amendment #60; Ordinance 2009-10-CM, second by Commissioner Murtaugh; motion carried.

Auditor Weston recorded the vote:

Byers	Yes
Knochel	Yes
Murtaugh	Yes

BUILDING COMMISSION – Ken Brown

Robert Wallace Property Update

Zoning Officer Ken Brown reported the Robert Wallace property has been fully sealed, but the truck remains on the property and as of today the lawn has not been mowed. He confirmed an engineer's report has not been provided to the Building Commission as of today.

Jeremy Duff from KJG Architecture spoke regarding the engineer's report for the Robert Wallace property. Mr. Duff reported KJG was contacted in February regarding the property in question and no further contact was made until last Thursday. He visited the property Friday afternoon and confirmed the house has been gutted to the original framing with substantial improvements made including the floor structure. Improvements were also made on the outside of the home being sheathed with OSB, the roof re-sheathed with a new shingle roof. KJG agreed to meet with the commissioners today to confirm substantial improvements have been made since February and a walk-through will be performed before the final drywall is applied.

Commissioner Knochel asked if the home is a hazard. Mr. Duff verified there is no floor sheathing and bare floor joist with a 3-foot deep crawl-space. He confirmed a final report will be completed and provided to the county.

Ray Luecke, contractor for Robert Wallace, confirmed he contacted the owner after the last meeting and advised him to mow the grass and remove the truck. As of Saturday, neither one had been touched. Mr. Luecke stated he will mow the lawn for the owner and notify Mr. Wallace again about the abandoned truck. He also stated the owner has a contract with an individual to remove the old garage. Mr. Brown confirmed the roof is collapsing on the garage but the main concern for the Building Commission is the house.

- Commissioner Murtaugh moved to extend the deadline for June 15, 2009 for the engineer's report and a property update, second by Commissioner Byers; motion carried.
