He introduced representatives from the Workforce Board as Randy Vernon; Ruth Hooker with Experience Works; Chris Cohee, Regional Coordinator for WorkOne activities; and Julie Hackerd, Training Facilitator. The Advancing Manufacturing initiative, which the County supports, has approximately 70 people in the employment opportunity program. One class graduated last month and two classes are graduating today. The Youth Council initiative provides information through schools and publications identifying career opportunities in health care and manufacturing industries for those entering the work force for the first time. The Regional Board is entering into a partnership with Indiana Conexus, a group promoting the opportunities within the state in the manufacturing and logistics industry. They work with secondary education to incorporate the manufacturing skill standard certification program to the curriculum and introduce school faculty, staff, parents, and students to the opportunities in manufacturing and logistics careers. A National campaign called "Dream It, Do It" introduces the new age of manufacturing.

Julie Hackerd shared stories of three unemployed individuals she has personally assisted in returning to the work force. She thanked the Commissioners for their support. Director Feldhaus discussed the Regional Per Capita Personal Income by County handout. One of the end goals of public investment in workforce development in education is to increase the earned income of the county. During the five year period from 2004 to 2009, the per capita personal income for Tippecanoe County residents increased from $26,599 to $30,056. The state income average during the same period increased from $30,619 to $33,363. PUBLIC COMMENT

Paul Wright – 4523 S. County Line Rd. W., West Point – Mr. Wright directed his comments to the McCutcheon students. He encouraged them to get involved with government, become gainfully employed, and pay close attention to where their money goes.

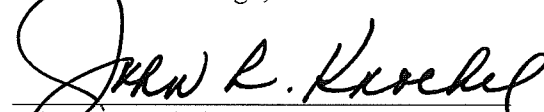

Commissioner Byers said local government officials, including the Commissioners pay the same taxes as all other taxpayers. Tippecanoe County is one of the most stable counties in the state with one of the lowest tax rates. Tippecanoe County is very solvent due to the close watch by the local government.

President Murtaugh said one of the functions of county government is to collect property taxes for all residents in the county but the money is then distributed to several entities such as schools, libraries, cities, and towns. As an example, local schools receive 60-70% of the collected taxes.

- With no additional public comments, Commissioner Knochel moved to adjourn.
