Public Comment

Terry Schmidt – Deputy Controller, City of Lafayette spoke regarding the CEDIT and COIT tax proposals. He noted the calculations by West Lafayette are new and need additional tracking over time to produce solid figures. He added the rate proposal and distribution of excess revenue were based on inventory from property tax returns estimated at $483 million. With the current proposal for 2006 inventory estimated at $332 million, Mr. Schmidt suggests evaluating this large decrease in an effort to be more precise.

Mike Jones – Controller, City of Lafayette noted there is a downfall without a reliable inventory evaluation number. He does not agree that $150 million has been lost in inventory in a short amount of time. He suggested there is no surplus based on this information and urged the council to proceed with caution.

Revenue Committee

Councilmember Murtaugh stated Coroner fees have been recently updated. The Clerk's Office is investigating collections of past traffic tickets and has considered outsourcing the project. Probation is also researching the possibility of collecting past due fees. At the last meeting, the committee reviewed revenue estimates from the 2008 budget, considered legislative efforts for funding 911, discussed a baseline for COIT and considered legislative action for the juvenile facility.

YOUTH SERVICES UPDATE – Rebecca Humphrey

Director Humphrey noted the Girl's facility is moving along well. Plans to move the modular home located at the fairgrounds are underway. She added site planning and moving details will available in the next 10 days.

Director Humphrey is currently working on programming for youth services to include reviewing best practices and furtherer implementing evidence based programs. She noted the JAMS program has been restructured from Cary Home to Juvenile Alternatives. This change will save the county $21,000 in 2008 if approved and will eliminate one full time employee.

DEPARTMENT OF CHILD SERVICES – Angela Smith Grossman

Director Grossman noted the $1,000,000 temporary loan from the spring has been paid. She currently is working on the budget changes in an effort to meet annual goals. She added the first six months of the year DCS was within budget, and slight increases will be made to the 2008 budget in an effort to adjust the cash flow. The DCS budget for next year will be approximately $13.9 million and an additional request for $1.5 million will be made to bring the department current.
